

I understand that the proposed LPFM services that are being considered will likely have a negative effect on FM stations which currently use translators. I have been listening to a station that uses one of those translators for the past 6 years or so and believe that it would have a negative impact on thousands of people who currently listen to K-LOVE and similar stations. This station is providing a service in this area that simply would not be available otherwise. I believe that all of those listeners would really be disappointed to find out that they could no longer get that type of quality programming in this area. I believe that K-LOVE and other stations like it offer listeners good quality service, news and current affairs from a national perspective, plus access to personal support personnel that can talk with people in crisis. K-LOVE also offers encouraging words and a positive look at life. We can all use more of that now days. Please don't allow the LPFM services to interfere with K-LOVE or other established FM translator stations.

Sincerely, Duane Adams
